I grew up in Sremska Kamenica, suburban neighborhood of Novi Sad, where I also finished elementary school. As a kid I would spend my time making toys, reading comics, epic fantasy novels and playing video games. During high school, I played guitar in the school orchestra, worked on technical support and special effects for the school theatre and designed bunch of animated powerpoint presentations. During college I started developing small video games as a hobby and began my career as a freelancer utilizing everything I've learned through education and on my own. I'm passionate about technology and developing creative solutions to whichever problem I come across. I'm an avid reader and music lover.

EXPERIENCE

2012 - present

Web Developer - Designer
HTML/CSS/JavaScript/React/WordPress/Adobe XD/Sketch

Over 6 years of web development (HTML, CSS, JavaScript) and web design (UX,UI,IxD/HCI/HF/UxD/IA) experience. I work on large scale websites, building design systems, writing and maintaining modular and scaleable HTML/SCSS/JS. Experience working on complex JavaScript based applications (React, Angular). Experience in conversion centered design of landing pages and user interfaces in Sketch, Adobe XD, Photoshop. I design video games as a hobby – my games are published by a Silicon Valley publisher and thousands of gamers play them daily.
